WebCME in Diabetes

www.diabetes.org.in

How long do I have to complete the course? Each course or a randomly generated exam with 10 questions generally must be completed within one week of the date of first attempt. As courses are continually updated, the completed exam is submitted for CME credit at the earliest convenience. If logged into WebCME course more than 1 year ago and has been inactive, validity of a course needs to be re-determined.

How do I know how many credit hours a WebCME course will receive? Each successfully completed exam with 50% correct responses receives one Credit. An online facility displays the list of courses and exams taken along with credits obtained by individual doctors.

How does grading work? Question data bank has largest collection of single response MCQs. 10 questions are randomly generated in each WebCME course or exam, and they are valid for one week. After studying the course materials, choosing right answers for 10 questions in each exam must be completed within seven days. A passing grade of at least 50 per cent must be attained in each of 100 exams before Credits and a Certificate of Completion of WebCME (Competence with 100 credits) will be awarded.

What is the Certificate awarded? NIMS Diabetes Online Learning Centre will acknowledge that a clinician has completed the WebCME in diabetes, attained 100 credits and is now eligible for Certificate of Competence as a part of the Accreditation Program by the University Department of Endocrinology and Metabolism, Nizam's Institute of Medical Sciences.

Accreditation in Diabetology

Clinicians after attending 100 hours of the accredited CME programs may attend the post CME self-evaluation on Sunday, December 4, 2005 in the Moses School of Diabetology, Nizam's Institute of Medical Sciences, Hyderabad.

Self evaluation program also includes submission of 20 detailed case records with 2 IDDM and 2 GDM cases in the long case format as prepared for examinations in the teaching hospitals. In addition, investigations, treatment given and follow-up should also be briefed. These records are to be neatly typed on A4 size white papers and spiral bound, and submitted at the time of self-evaluation program of the Accreditation.

Please note that for registering to the self assessment of the accreditation program, the following should reach the Moses School of Diabetology before November 19, 2005:

- Draft for Rs.5,000 favoring Diabetes Research Society
- Copy of the M.B.,B.S. certificate
- Copies of accredited CME programs attended.

The date of the self assessment program is scheduled on Sunday, December 4, 2005 to be held in Moses School of Diabetology at NIMS, Hyderabad at 11.00 a.m. for 2 hours. The self assessment may include answering about 100 to 200 MCQs in two hours.

Viva voce by visiting faculty from WHO Institute for Diabetes at University at Zagreb Medical School, Croatia and Technical Officer ic Diabetes at WHO Headquarters in Geneva, may be arranged if 20 or more clinicians attend the post CME self-evaluation.

Accreditation is an attendance and self evaluation system of the continuing medical education activity for primary care physicians. It is not equivalent to a Certificate, Diploma or Degree awarded by the Universities, and it does not confer any academic qualification or distinction on a clinician.

As the current addresses of the following 120 life members are not known, all communications to them are withheld. If you know any of them, please intimate their present address.
