

From Secretary's Desk

We have just completed first "Advanced course in Diabetes". Academically it was indeed a great success and well received by all participants. Faculty included Prof. B.B. Tripathy (Cuttack), Dr. H.B. Chandalia (Bombay), Dr. C.G. Aggarwal (Lucknow), Dr. Ashok Das (Pondicherry), Dr. M.M.S. Ahuja, Dr. M.C. Srivastava, Dr. B. Krishna Ram, Dr. M.G. Karmarkar, Dr. H.S. Wasir, Dr. R.L. Bijlani, Dr. G.D. Gupta, Dr. S. Kapila, Dr. L.M. Srivastava, Dr. A.N. Malaviya, Dr. S.D. Seth, Dr. K.K. Aggarwal, Dr. P. Mahajan, Dr. G.K. Ahuja, Dr. K. Khetarpal. Dr. A.K. Gupta, Dr. N.P. Singh, Dr. M.M. Kapur, Dr. S. Bhargava, Dr. Ramesh Kumar, Dr. U.N. Bhuyan, Dr. Kamal Buckshee, Mrs. Rekha Sharma, Dr. G.P. Sharma (all from New Delhi). Co-operation extended by this eminent faculty is highly appreciated and contributed to make the course of high standard for postgraduates and specialists. We are grateful to National Academy of Medical Sciences for the finance provided. The highlights of the course in abridged form are presented for the members in this issue of the Bulletin. It is being proposed that this course becomes a regular annual feature (March second week) of the Research Society activities.

The next scientific annual meeting will be held in Bangalore. Dr. C. Munichoodappa (Specialists' Clinic, 14/3 Madras Bank Road, Near India Garrage, Bangalore-1) is the organising secretary. The theme is on the "Monitoring of Diabetic Control". A session on evaluation of "cooking oils used in India" by the dieticians is also being planned.

Dr. Sahay has requested that papers presented at the annual scientific conference must reach him by June 30, 1984 to be included in the proceedings. Please cooperate:

K. KHETARPAL
Organising Secretary